

1 Glenbogle Parish Church. On the road outside of Roy Bridge on the A86 heading to Laggan. A beautiful setting and well worth the trip is Cille Choirill church near appears in Monarch of the Glen as Glenbogle Church. Located high on a hill overlooking the valley of the River Spean it has fine views to the east and west. Hector was laid to rest at this church.

2 Creag Meagaidh. A National Nature Reserve and was the venue for the hill race in the first MOTG Series, in which Archie helped a limping Katrina, allowing a kilted Duncan (sponsored by Willie Wallace's Garage) to romp home.

3 Loch Laggan. The loch boasts the largest freshwater beach in the country and on the southern shore, the major location for the series, the splendid Victorian house of Ardverikie. Queen Victoria spent her first long holiday here in 1847. The House is privately owned but good photographs can be obtained from the north side of Loch Laggan from below one of the lay-by's.—Can access the beach by foot over the bridge and is about a 15 minute walk. Many scenes from Monarch of the Glen have been filmed at various locations along the south side of Loch Laggan. The beach at the east end of the loch appeared in many scenes including Hector (Richard Briers) going swimming in series one.

4 Pattack Falls. A Dramatic Gorge was the scene of a moonlit canoodling between Archie and Katrina in the first series. Fergal stripped off and dived into the pool in the second series. Many fishing scenes used this gorge in all seven series. Located on A86 accessed via car park.

5 Laggan Often seen as Glenbogle village. The Hamlet by the bridge over the River Spey. The primary school was used for Glenbogle school, the Craft Shop appeared as Wallace's Garage and Funeral Directors, while the local shop became MacKechnie's Stores. The start and end of the hill race in Series One episode two was also filmed next to the village. Around half a mile from Laggan on the road to the Corrieyairack Pass is the ruined cottage which was used as Katrina's cottage in Series One and the folk museum in Series Two. Golly was given this same cottage in Series 4.

Series 7 cast Photo.

6 Newtonmore. Used in many shots driving through and although now demolished was the location for the Glenbogle hairdressers opposite the Glen Hotel. The Macpherson Museum was used as Glenbogle Post Office and Tearoom.

7 Glenbogle Town Hall. Located in Kingussie, the capital of Badenoch. Also the town was used in many episodes with the Police Station and Gows Butcher's.

8 Something Different. One of many shops used in the series on this occasion with Tom Baker exiting.

17 Carrbridge The village hall in Carrbridge has been used several times as Glenbogle Village Hall in Monarch of the Glen including Series 2 Ep. 6 & Series 4 Ep. 8

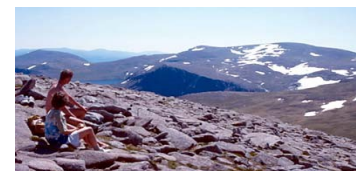

10 Loch An Eilein. This was used a few times and with Archie and Katrina, they rowed to the deserted island with the ruined castle. Located on the Rothiemurchus Estate near Aviemore appeared in episode 4 of the first series. The castle was one of the homes of the infamous Alexander Stewart, 1st Earl of Buchan also known as the Wolf of Badenoch.

11 Loch Morlich. A great place to sit on a fine summers day.

12 The Cairngorms. The Cairngorms, the largest mountain area in the UK.

13 Loch Garten. Home of the osprey, the bird which featured in the very first Monarch.

15 Balavil Estate. Kingussie is the Estate used as Kilwillies House. Balavil House is a Robert Adam designed Georgian Mansion dating from the 1790's

14 Broomhill is the place where Archie arrived from London at the start of it all. You can travel to the station on the Strathspey Steam Railway.

16 Ruthven Barracks In Series 6, Episode 9 the car which gets Ewan (Martin Compston) into trouble is seen going past a large ruined building. Filmed at Ruthven Barracks near Kingussie.

18 Lochan na h-Earba The lochs seen in series one, episode five of Monarch of the Glen are Lochan na h-Earba (two lochans, one name) on the Ardverikie estate.

In Series 1 Episode 4 of Monarch of the Glen the landrover in which Archie and Katrina are travelling breaks down and they have to spend the night together. The filming location was on the south side of the eastern of the two lochs looking south west towards Creag Pitridh (924m high).

The clay pigeon contest in Series 6 Episode 8 of Monarch of the Glen was filmed at Lochan na h-Earba on the Ardverikie estate. The filming location was roughly halfway along the south side of the eastern end of the two lochs which make up Lochan na h-Earba.

Glenbogle Banner (at The Rumble)

Series 1 Episode 6 – Archie takes part in a traditional boat race across the loch against neighbouring landowner, Laird Kilwillie, in their annual grudge-match. The Banner is used in many scenes. We obtained this item in the auction on Cairngorm Mountain.

The Display (at The Rumble)

Some props above on display at The Rumble that were used in the TV series.

Other places of interest are Ghillies rest—The pub located on the main estate and shown on the left. Iona's cottage is near to Pattack falls and the wedding hill for Archie and Lexie is above the old petrol station at Kinloch Laggan.

Wildlife Park Visitor Centre Sign (at The Rumble)

Series 4 Episode 2 Glenbogle The opening day of The Wildlife Centre arrives and everything is going wrong - no-one has turned up to the grand opening - Duncan seen opening up the visitor centre. We were given this Brown sign by a local who did not want it anymore.

The 2CV (at The Rumble)

Series 6 - Meg's Dance Class. We purchased this from the production team. Also visiting us was Ewan's Capri—still owned locally.

The Blue Bear (at The Rumble)

Series 7 - The blue bear re-introduced Duncan back to Glenbogle. He brought a toy for the new baby on the back of a motorbike. We were lucky enough to obtain the bear and be photographed with one of the cast— Rae Hendry.

