The new laird of Glenbogle has had to learn to some lessons, and fast. He has to prove his worth to the family, the community and more importantly himself. On top of this he is coming to realise just how strong his feelings for Lexie are.

After spending the summer with Archie at their vineyard in New Zealand, Lexie has returned to Glenbogle to tie up some loose ends. However, a heart-to-heart with her brother-in-law reveals her doubts about leaving the estate. Their relationship begins to grow more intimate and they are forced to make a decision that may rock Glenbogle to its very foundations.

Meanwhile, Molly and Golly find new opportunities, for Golly it's a chance to find love. And Hector's flamboyant younger brother Donald (Tom Baker) returns to the family home after a 40 year absence – unpredictable, incorrigible and ill-behaved, the overgrown schoolboy causes mayhem from the moment he arrives.

"As always, this warming Scottish feel-good drama does exactly what it says on the tin. And better still, the wonderful Tom Baker joins the cast as the late Hector's estranged brother and unruly pensioner Donald MacDonald, who brings chaos to the whole household." People

"The scenery is so spectacular and lovingly filmed that it makes you want to head for the Highlands." Northern Echo
